It is essential that we be notified because we are not mind readers! Feel free to "dob in a mate" too!

Keeping Of Chickens

Residents are permitted to keep chickens on their property in the Shire of Yilgarn. They do not need to inform the Shire that they keep chickens but there are Local Laws that set the conditions in which the poultry may be kept.

How Many Chickens Are Permitted on a Single Property?

Other than a rural zone, the occupier of the property can keep up to 20 poultry.

How Many Roosters Are Permitted?

If the property is not in a rural zone - no roosters are permitted. Geese, peafowl, guinea fowl and turkeys are also not permitted on a non-rural property.

Conditions for Keeping Poultry

A person who keeps or permits poultry to be kept must follow these conditions.

No poultry to be able to approach within ten (10) metres from:

- any dwelling
- public building/premises where people are employed

CEACA

Supporting Age Friendly Communities

Private Accommodation Now Available

CEACA Inc are a charitable organisation who own and manage 71 private rentals across 11 shires in the Central East Wheatbelt Region. The primary focus for CEACA Inc is to ensure that those who are living in the shire can continue to do so for as long as possible and to welcome others from outside of the region.

MAKE THAT LIFESTYLE CHANGE!

- Unable to manage your current property and are looking for a home that is easy care?
- Would you benefit from being closer to doctor's and other services?
- Would you like to be closer to family, friends or relocate to the region?
- Do you work in the area and are struggling to find suitable accommodation?
- Would you like to live in a community setting?

CEACA units are situated in Bruce Rock, Beacon, Bencubbin, Kellerberrin, Koorda, Kununoppin, Merredin, Mukinbudin, Nungarin, Southern Cross, Westonia and Wyalkatchem and current vacancies are in Bruce Rock, Beacon, Kununoppin, Merredin and Southern Cross. We welcome requests to be added to the CEACA waiting list.

The rent is affordable and you can even bring your pet!
A maximum of two people per unit permitted.

Refer a friend, family member or acquaintance to our units and if the person they referred is successful, the referrer will be paid a one-off sum of $250!

CEACA Inc do give priority to those over 65 years and those living with a disability, however we also consider applications from all ages who may own or rent a house currently, who are living in the region or would like to relocate to the region to start a new life or just to be close to family and friends. As this is private accommodation, tenants will be subject to references.

If unsure, please contact us 9441 4815 or send an email to info@ceaca.org.au and we will be in touch!

SCDHS Country Week 2020

On Sunday 20 September, we took 25 Year 7-10 SCDHS to Country Week 2020. This was the first time in many years and the school community was very excited at the opportunity. We had a quick stop over at the Chocolate Factory, before arriving in Perth. After settling in to our accommodation at Karrinyup Waters Resort, we visited Hillarys Boat Marina for dinner.

The following day, the sporting carnival commenced with the opening ceremony. Our school Sport Captains, Dane and Brydee, represented the school and took part in the official opening of the games. Four of our students, April, Brock, Josh and Cheree, were also presented an 'Active Achievers' awards for portraying positive images about health and well-being and being actively involved in school and/or community activities. Monday also saw our first few rounds of fixtured games. We had one girls Netball team in 'D' division and two boys Basketball teams, one in 'B' and the other 'C' division. We still managed to fit in lots of site seeing as we visited Elizabeth Quay and the Bell Tower and finishing the evening with dinner at Sizzlers, the movies and Timezone.

On Tuesday, the students participated in the last of the grading games and the divisions and fixtures were finalised. The 'B' division basketball team won their game by 1 point against Dalwallinu. We were on the edge of our seats, with the opposition having the opportunity to win the game with penalty shots after the buzzer. Unfortunately, the 'C' division basketball team went down by 12 points and the netball girls also lost their game by 10 goals. After our games, we travelled to Optus Stadium and walked across Matagarup Bridge and around the stadium. We also enjoyed two games of laser tag, with the teachers definitely being clear stand outs! We finished the night off by dining in an Italian-style restaurant for dinner and dessert pizza.

The games continued on Wednesday with some mixed results. The boys' teams played two games each, with the 'C' division team managing to grab their first win against Boddington. The 'B' division Basketball team unfortunately lost both their games. The netball girls had a close game against Wyalkatchem and was their best of the week, but didn't manage to come away with the win. After a busy week, we had scheduled some relaxing time at the resort by the pool, before making our way to ten pin bowling. The winners of our inaugural super bowl comp were as follows:

Mr Brown - 138
Mrs Stephen - 137
Flynn Chrisp - 124

Students enjoyed Domino's pizza back at the accommodation for dinner with a movie & games night. After a big few days, everyone was feeling a little rested and ready to finish the week off on a high!

Thursday was our last day of fixtures, with each of the teams having two games each. The students were eager to see if they would be playing-off in any of the finals scheduled for the Friday. The 'C' division boys' basketball team made an epic come back in their second game from 21 points down against Dalwallinu. They ended up losing by 6 points but definitely had the opposition rattled! Unfortunately, Geraldton Grammar were too strong in the first game. The 'B' division Basketball team had two close matches. They won their first game against Northampton, but unfortunately lost the second against Boyup Brook which meant they had lost their chance to play off in the 1v2 final. It was still a fantastic effort to be in the running for 3rd place in their division. The Netball girls had tried their hardest throughout the whole week and demonstrated lots of positive team work and sportsmanship. Unfortunately, they were not able to come away with a win but they were better for the experience! They enjoyed having the opportunity to cheer on the boys during their finals games.

One of the highlights of the trip was visiting Latitude. Latitude is a giant arena with everything you could imagine ranging from dodgeball, trampolines, basketball, rock climbing, abseiling as well as low and high obstacle courses, just to name a few! By all accounts, this was one of the favourites of the trip and, along with some Late night shopping, it was a great way to finish off the week!

Just when we thought it was all over, to top off a great week, the 'B' division boys had an epic final against Dongara. They came so close to taking out 3rd place in their division, only going down by two points.

At the closing ceremony, the 'C' division basketball boys and the netball girls were awarded the top sportsmanship award for their respective divisions. This is a credit to the way they carried themselves throughout the week and it was well deserved! Congratulations - we are so proud of you all!

It was a fantastic camp with the students and the staff having made lots of special and life-long memories along the way! One of the most rewarding things for me, was to see the students making lots of new friends from the other schools and having the opportunity to mingle with them by chance at some of our scheduled activities as well as also during the days at the sporting venues. We also had lots of positive comments from the organisers and other schools about our students in terms of their mannerisms, sportsmanship and how professional they looked in the playing uniforms and jackets. If you haven't already done so, pop over to our school Facebook page to see our daily wrap updates and more photos from the week.

A special thanks to Miss Jones and Mr Brown for their help and support throughout the camp week itself and in the lead up. We would also like to thank all the staff and students from SCDHS for their encouragement in getting the event off the ground. We would also like to thank the following community members and groups for their contributions and financial support towards the camp. Without many of you, the wonderful week that we had would not have been possible. We can't express our thanks and appreciation enough and are so lucky to be part of such a supportive community.

- The secondary students and their families for their fundraising efforts
- All community members who supported our fundraising initiatives
- The Shire of Yilgarn for waiving the cost of hiring the community bus
- Thomson Drilling Pty Ltd for their generous donation
- Barto (Minjar) Gold Mining for their generous donation

YILGARN HISTORY MUSEUM

VOLUNTEER/S CURATOR POSITION

The Yilgarn History Museum Committee, which is an Advisory Committee of the Shire of Yilgarn, is seeking the services of a Volunteer/s interested in undertaking the duties of Curator at the Museum.

The position involves the collating of local historical artefacts at the Museum and recording of these items on a specific software program. Knowledge of computers would be an advantage and it is envisaged that approximately one day per week of volunteered time would be required to undertake these duties. These duties could be shared by two like-minded people interested in recording our local history.

If you believe that you could devote this valuable time to enable our local history to be recorded and held in perpetuity for the future residents of the Yilgarn district, training will be offered by the Museum's current Volunteer Curator.

Please contact the undersigned to register your interest.

AIMING FOR MORE THAN 38,000 HANDMADE, HEARTFELT CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Rural Aid on track to deliver record number of festive messages to farmers

Following an emotional response from farmers in previous years, Rural Aid is repeating its Christmas Cards 4 Farmers campaign in 2020 with an aim to distribute more than 38,000 cards.

The organisation is once again asking school children to help bring some much-needed cheer into the lives of our farmers by creating homemade cards.

CEO of Rural Aid, John Walters, said that in the lead up to Christmas over recent years, Rural Aid had asked school children to write letters and cards to farmers and the response was huge.

"We received 38,000 cards that year: some were written in crayon, others covered in glitter, but all of them had the same heartfelt messages from city kids to farmers and their families," Mr Walters said.

"Little did we know what impact these letters would have on the farmers reading them; coming from children they didn't know, saying that they cared."

"To say the response from the farmers was emotionally charged would be an understatement."

Mr Walters said the organisation is hoping to get even more cards in 2020, beating the record 38,000 handmade cards sent in 2019.

Over 700 schools and community groups participated last year, and nearly 200 volunteers were involved in mailing out Christmas cards and letters to almost 11,000 farmers and their families. (Note: Farmers received more than one card and letter.)

The cards cannot be larger than 120mm x 170mm, though they can be folded down to this size, and should not be placed in an individual envelope. Instead, cards should be grouped together and placed in a bigger envelope before being mailed to Rural Aid - PO Box 1342, Sunnybank Hills QLD 4109.

Rural Aid explained that, in addition to the anguish caused by the COVID pandemic that has affected all Australians, farmers across the country have endured years of record-breaking droughts, devastating floods and catastrophic bushfires.

"After such a difficult year, we want to put a smile on the faces of Aussie farmers. Students can make this possible by getting their school involved in our Christmas Cards 4 Farmers initiative."

Help Rural Aid continue this tradition by creating your homemade card and sending it in before November 19.

Rural Aid will have thousands of envelopes here ready to put your card in and send onto an Aussie farmer.

NATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY WEEK: ISOLATION THE FOCUS

Rural Aid invites primary producers to November webinar on loneliness

During National Psychology Week, one of Australia's largest rural charities is inviting farmers and rural residents across the country to attend this month's edition of the popular "On The Couch" webinar series.

Hosted each month by one of Rural Aid's specialist counsellors, this month's edition focuses on the topics of isolation, loneliness and being alone.

CEO of Rural Aid John Walters says that the challenges of living a solo life are common in the agricultural sector and in rural communities.

"There is a distinction between loneliness and being alone, and it's important to note that many people choose isolation," Mr Walters said.

"Solo living is common in our remote and rural communities, but loneliness needs to be managed. In next week's webinar we'll look at the 'why' and 'when' of loneliness and how to create the best of both worlds."

Counsellor Gary Bentley will host the webinar which will be held at 6pm AEDT, 5pm AEST on 18 November.

"There are times in our lives when we crave isolation; times when we want to remove ourselves from society; times when we want to close the door and keep the world at bay. 'Me time' is important," Mr Bentley explained.

"We can use 'Me time' to reassess and regroup, recharge our emotional resources and refresh our spiritual strength. The problem is that isolation can become a prison of our own creation and can interfere with perspective altering the way we view our lives and the people around us."

"The answer lies in balance: determining when isolation can tip over from self-protection to self-harm, when something that can be good for us becomes destructive."

Any members of rural communities are welcome to attend. Attendance and comments made using the chat functionality of the webinar is strictly private and confidential.

Register here (<https://my.demio.com/ref/AEP48BZuWaHHjIBI>) to attend the webinar: "Isolation, loneliness and being alone: The challenges of living a solo life."

How alcohol increases your risk of cancer

Alcohol is classified as a Group 1 carcinogen, which means there is no doubt it causes cancer, just like tobacco and asbestos.

Five ways alcohol can cause cancer.

1. Alcohol is broken down in the body and forms acetaldehyde. Acetaldehyde is a cell poison and human carcinogen (cancer-causing agent), and damages cells by disrupting our DNA.
2. Alcohol can cause direct tissue damage and increases the ability of other carcinogens (such as tobacco) to cause damage to cells, in the mouth, pharynx, oesophagus, colon and liver.
3. Alcohol can influence hormone levels, increasing cancer risk, particularly in the breast.
4. Alcohol can reduce folate absorption, which can result in changes in the cell, potentially making it more likely to become cancerous.
5. Alcohol and many of the mixers (e.g. soft drink) we add are high in calories, which can contribute to weight gain and obesity. Being above a healthy weight increases the risk of 13 different cancers.

Did you know that alcohol causes cancer in 7 sites of the body?

There is strong evidence that drinking any type of alcohol (wine, beer and spirits) is a cause of cancer in seven sites of the body, including mouth, throat, breast, liver and bowel.

Mouth, throat and oesophagus

Alcohol damages the cells lining the mouth, throat (pharynx and larynx) and oesophagus as it enters the mouth and is swallowed, causing cancer in these parts of the body

Female breast

There are a number of potential ways that alcohol causes breast cancer in females, including by increasing the levels of hormones in the blood.

Liver

The liver is responsible for breaking down alcohol in the body, which results in the conversion of alcohol to acetaldehyde. The liver breakdowns alcohol in three different ways, and all three ways lead to the conversion of alcohol into acetaldehyde.

Alcohol damages the liver by causing a build-up of fat, inflammation and scarring, which can lead to liver cancer.

Colon and rectum

Alcohol can cause cancer in the colon and rectum by multiple pathways, including by acetaldehyde damaging DNA and stopping cells from repairing this damage.

How can you reduce your risk of alcohol-caused cancer?

Making small changes to your drinking can help reduce your risk. Try reducing how often and how much you drink by:

Having a few alcohol-free days each week.

Having alcohol-free days each week will help you stay healthy and break bad habits. If you're already having alcohol-free days each week, try to add another. Head online to alcoholthinkagain.com.au to see the benefits of reducing how often you drink.

Keeping track of your drinking by counting your drinks.

Actively counting how many drinks you have each drinking occasion can contribute to reduced alcohol use overall.

Swap to low or no alcohol alternatives.

Low and no alcohol products are a good alternative for people who want to reduce their drinking – they have the same or similar taste but contain less alcohol.

Limit how much alcohol you keep in the house.

If it's not there, you can't drink it! If you're not ready to make your house a drink-free zone, avoid stocking up on alcohol at the next trip to the bottle shop. The more alcohol we buy, the more likely we are to drink it sooner than we had intended.

Finding ways to change your routine.

If your routine includes relaxing with a drink, change it up by going outside to get some fresh air and exercise.

Are you at-risk of alcohol-caused cancer?

Almost 1 in 5 Western Australian's reported drinking more than two standard drinks on any day in 2019, placing them at-risk of long-term health harms.

The risk of developing an alcohol-caused cancer increases with the amount and frequency of alcohol use.

For more information and ways to reduce your risk, head to alcoholthinkagain.com.au

Call to keep up with cervical screening

Cervical Cancer Awareness Week: 16-22 November 2020

Cancer Council WA's Wheatbelt Regional Education Officer, Melissa Pickering, said Cervical Cancer Awareness Week 16th – 22nd November was a timely reminder for women to make sure they are up to date with their cervical cancer screening.

"We know cancer screening helps find cancer earlier so treatment can start before the cancer reaches a more advanced stage, giving people a better chance of survival," she said.

Ms Pickering said anyone with a cervix between the age of 25 and 74 years (regardless of whether or not they have been vaccinated for HPV) living in the Wheatbelt region should have regular Cervical Screening Tests as part of their ongoing health and wellbeing checks.

"If people with a cervix delay their cervical screening, there is a chance a pre-cancerous abnormality may develop into cancer or an early cancer may develop to a stage that is more difficult to treat," she said.

"If it has been sometime since they have had a cervical screening or if they have never had one, it is important to make a time to speak to your GP."

Those who have previously had the Pap test should have their HPV cervical screening test two years after their last Pap test, after which point if they have a normal result, they can move to five-yearly screening.

Australia transitioned to a new five-yearly HPV cervical screening test for those aged 25-74 in 2017, replacing the old two-yearly Pap test. The new test looks for the presence of HPV, the virus that causes almost all cervical cancers, and is expected to lower cervical cancer cases and mortality by at least 20 per cent.¹

More than 90 people a month are being diagnosed with lung cancer in WA

Cancer Council WA is using November's Lung Cancer Awareness Month to remind Wheatbelt residents of the symptoms of lung cancer and what to do if they notice any unusual changes to their body.

Cancer Council WA's Wheatbelt Regional Education Officer, Melissa Pickering said many people don't realise a cough which lasts for three weeks or more needs to be investigated.

"If you have a long standing cough that worsens or changes for three weeks or more, it needs to be investigated," she said.

"If you have repeated chest infections, you notice you are becoming more short of breath or lacking energy, and have had any of these symptoms for more than four weeks, they should be investigated too.

"If you cough up blood - even once - it's really important to visit your doctor, clinic nurse or Aboriginal health worker right away to find out the cause.

"It doesn't mean you've got cancer, often it turns out to be something less serious, though it's critical to have the symptoms investigated early to be sure."

Find Cancer Early champion Terry Keane from Toodyay, who has experienced lung cancer first-hand, echoes Cancer Council WA's advice to Wheatbelt residents.

Terry's advice

"You're not bulletproof. Go see your doctor if something's not right".

"Never smoke. It was part of our culture in those days. These days' people catch up over a cup of coffee, in our day it was a cigarette" he said.

"You're not bulletproof.
Go see your doctor if something's not right."

Lung cancer

Lung cancer remains the fourth most commonly diagnosed cancer in Australia and the most common cause of cancer death according to Australian Institute of Health and Welfare data.

In the Wheatbelt in 2017, 54 people were diagnosed with lung cancer with 35 deaths.

Smoking is linked to as many as 80 percent of lung cancers with current smokers almost nine times more likely to develop lung cancer than people who have never smoked.

Other known causes of lung cancer include occupational carcinogens such as silica dust and diesel engine exhaust and if a person has a family history of lung cancer or previous lung disease their risk of lung cancer is also increased.

"Remember, the chances of successful treatment are much higher when cancer is found early," Ms Pickering said.

THE NATIONALS for Regional WA

Authorised by M. Davies, Northam Boulevard Shopping Centre, Fitzgerald Street, Northam.

Did You Know?

Did you know the following ditty is true?

The horse and cow live thirty years
And nothing know of wine and beers
The goat and sheep at twenty die
And never know of scotch and rye
The sow drinks water by the ton
And, at eighteen, is nearly done
The dog, at fifteen, cashes in
Without the need of rum or gin
The cat in milk and water soaks
And then, in twelve short years, it croaks
The modest, sober, bone dry hen
Lays eggs for years and dies at ten
All animals are strictly dry
And sinless live and quickly die
But sinful, ginful, rum soaked men
Survive for three score years and ten
And some of us, but mighty few
Stay pickled till we're ninety two
