GAS SAFETY

AT HOME

GAS LEAKS

All hydrocarbon gases have an odour/smell added to them to help you detect a leak. Smells of gas in your home are not normal and can alert you to a hazard.

Steps must be taken to eliminate any potential danger that could arise from leaking gas. Gas suppliers' instructions should always be followed but the steps below offer general information on making the situation safe.

1. Turn off the supply of gas to the property at the cylinder.
2. If you consider it necessary, evacuate the building.
3. Remove any ignition risks. Make sure there are no naked flames, no one is smoking, don't use matches or lighters and don't touch any electrical switches.
4. If lights are on, leave them on.
5. Ventilate the building by opening all the doors and windows.
6. Report the incident.
7. Do not re-enter the area until it is safe to do so.

1

2

HAVING GAS FITTING WORK DONE

Always use a licensed gas fitter for installations, repairs or renovations involving gas work.

This not only applies to jobs like installing hot water systems and heaters, but also where renovations might involve disconnection or relocation of gas appliances. In Western Australia, the law requires that all gasfitting work is carried out by a person who holds a licence issued by Building and Energy.

Gasfitting is a skilled technical trade that requires extensive training. Do not be tempted to do gas work yourself, or to use an unlicensed gas fitter. Unlicensed work is a risk to yours and public safety and may affect future insurance claims.

3

YOUR GUARANTEE

When any gas fitting work (other than servicing) is carried out, the gas fitter responsible must provide a Notice of Completion (NOC) to you and the relevant gas supplier within 48 hours of completion of the work.

GAS SAFETY

GAS HEATERS

You can't see or smell carbon monoxide, you won't be able to tell if your heater is spilling it into your home. The first warning signs are often headaches, nausea and fatigue. To avoid carbon monoxide leaking into your home and making you sick or even causing death, adequate ventilation and maintenance of your gas heater are vital.

You should also:

- Avoid leaving your gas heater on for extended periods.
- Install a carbon monoxide alarm as a back-up measure.
- Check there isn't safety alert or recall issued for your gas heater.
- Consider replacing old heaters.

If you suspect a leak, turn the heater off straight away, open windows and doors to let in fresh air and leave the house immediately.

Do not use your heater again until you have had it checked by a licensed gas fitter.

4

5

CYLINDERS AND HOSES

- Do not refill cylinders that have been damaged.
- Check the cylinder test date to make sure it has not been over 10 years since it was tested.
- Make sure the hose is not damaged.
- Check connections are tight.
- Soapy water test - spray the hose, regulator and all connections with a soapy water solution. Bubbles will form if gas is escaping. If in doubt, turn off the gas and refer to a licensed gas fitter.
- Serious leaks are common and can be dangerous.

Take the following precautions for the safe storage of LP Gas:

- LP Gas cylinders must not be stored close to any ignition source.
- Cylinders must be stored upright to allow proper operation of the safety relief valve.
- Cylinder valves must be closed when not in use.
- Cylinders must be protected against falling, damage and excessive rise in temperature.
- Cylinders must not be stored in locations which would risk escape from a building in the event of a fire.

SERVICE YOUR GAS HEATER FOR WINTER

Most gas appliances are used more during periods of cold weather. Checking appliances before the cooler weather arrives ensures that all your gas appliances are in good working order and you will be able to enjoy a warm and safe winter.

Your heater should be serviced as often as is outlined the manufacturer's instructions or at least every two years by a licensed gas fitter. If the appliance is more than 10 years old, it should be serviced annually. The service details will be found on a sticker on the heater.

You should also have it serviced if:

- The outer case of your heater is discoloured. This is an indication of a fault.
- You have difficulty re-lighting the gas heater.
- Your heater has a yellow flame.

6

7

BBQS AND OUTDOOR GAS PATIO HEATERS

Portable outdoor appliances such as gas heaters and barbecues are ideal for use outdoors. However, these appliances can present a danger of carbon monoxide poisoning if used indoors or in semi-enclosed areas.

You can keep people and property safe by following these simple steps:

- Make sure cafe-style blinds are up when using these gas appliances.
- Read the manufacturer's instructions prior to use.
- To prevent a fire hazard, make sure the appliance is away from combustible materials eg timber.
- Use the right type of gas. Check the data plate on the appliance to find out what type of gas it uses.
- Check you are using an LP gas cylinder with the correct valve.

Domestic outdoor gas barbecues and outdoor gas patio heaters are designed, manufactured and certified for outdoor use only. They are not subject to the strict testing for emissions that applies to domestic indoor appliances; therefore, ensuring they are used in the correct way and in the required location is your responsibility.

DANGERS OF CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING

Carbon monoxide is a colourless, odourless, poisonous gas which may be produced by faulty, poorly maintained or misused gas appliances. You may not know you have been exposed to potentially fatal levels of carbon monoxide until the symptoms of poisoning become severe.

Exposure to low levels of carbon monoxide may result in a person experiencing headaches, weakness, fatigue and nausea but at higher levels, symptoms could include severe headache, dizziness, rapid or irregular heartbeat, vomiting, seizures and collapse. In extreme cases this can lead to coma and death. If you suspect you have inhaled carbon monoxide, seek medical attention immediately and report the incident as outlined above.

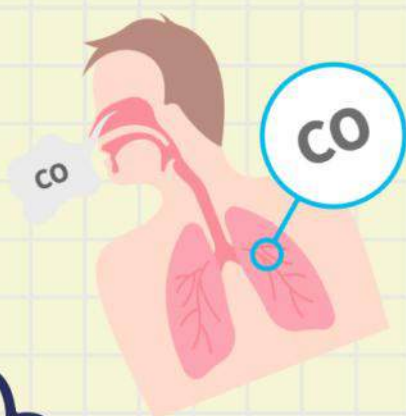

How do I protect everyone from carbon monoxide at my home?

- Have your gas appliances checked and serviced regularly by a licensed gas fitter or service agent. Do this in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions or every two years, unless the appliance is over 10 years old, when it should be checked annually.
- Keep gas appliances clean and free of dust.
- Make sure the area where you are using the appliance, is well ventilated.
- Never use outdoor appliances such as barbecues and patio heaters inside.
- Do not run several high volume exhaust fans with flued gas appliances unless this has been checked by gas fitter. Running multiple exhaust fans together with flued gas appliances is capable of drawing flue products back into well-sealed rooms.
- Never modify gas appliances or use them for purposes contrary to the manufacturer's instructions.

9

AUSTRALIAN APPROVED APPLIANCES

Portable, outdoor appliances such as cookers, use a butane canister so a licensed gasfitter is not required to do the installation. This means the appliances aren't being confirmed as safe by a gasfitter or a gas supplier. You will therefore need to ensure they are Australian approved gas appliances. They can easily be identified as they feature both an approval number, and an approval body mark.

Runway to the Stars

The fundraising event for the Southern Cross Airport

Hello to all community members, those working for the businesses and companies in our district, farming families, visitors and expatriates of the Yilgarn. We have an idea that we would like to share with you all.

If you have ever experienced a medical emergency for yourself, a loved one, a workmate, or a neighbour, you will appreciate the importance of getting urgent medical attention. For those of us living a significant distance from a tertiary hospital, having an airport available is vital, so that our own medical team at the Southern Cross Hospital can transfer the injured or unwell person in a timely manner. To do this, when weather events are becoming more unpredictable, and frankly, safety levels are becoming more stringent, the Southern Cross Airport runway needs to undergo a major upgrade. Rain is increasingly impacting on whether the airport can be used safely for flights in and out, so the time has come to do something about it. The Yilgarn Shire has undertaken a commitment to seek Federal and State funding over the next few years in order to achieve this, but to support this, as a community we need to raise $200,000 towards the airport runway improvement plan.

As a way to demonstrate Council's commitment towards this endeavor, a major community fundraising event is being organised towards the end of the year, with a committee of councillors consisting of Donna Newbury, Lisa Granich, Linda Rose and Bianca Bradford, and now Tash Beaton from the Yilgarn Shire who will be assisting with the sponsorship and relevant funding applications.

This fundraising effort has its roots from when the Shire of Yilgarn was first established, and the people rolled their collective sleeves up to fund and build local halls, school playgrounds, sporting facilities like the first Southern Cross swimming pool, and so much more. A great legacy that we have all benefited from, and now it is our chance these many years on, to pool our resources and commitment to provide something that benefits everyone who lives, works or visits here, when they need it the most.

Our intention is to leave another Yilgarn legacy to be proud of, that we can all be part of. Please feel free to contact our committee if you have any queries, or would like to offer some help (financial or practical) towards our "Runway To The Stars" event.

Cheers,

Donna Newbury

DRIVER REVIVER – EASTER 2025

After having a break in 2024 where we weren't able to continue our Driver Reviver operation due to roadworks, I am happy to report that over the Easter long-weekend, the Southern Cross Driver Reviver Van was in full operation from our not-so-new location, the Pioneer Cemetery.

The Van was up and running for a total of 20 hours. During that time, we had 24 vehicles stop and provided refreshments for 31 Drivers and Passengers. A very pleasing result.

On behalf of the Yilgarn Community Support Group, I wish to thank the Shire Workers for getting the Van in place for us and for organising our signage; SX Hardware & News for allowing us to leave the Roster to recruit our Volunteers and the CRC for the advertising in the Crosswords. If I have left anyone out, I apologise but we are very thankful to you as well.

Most importantly, the Driver Reviver wouldn't be successful without the generous time given from our Volunteers. A big thanks goes out to Lynn & Felicity Watts, Colin & Ursula Cuffe, Mayette Potter, Steve Chilcott, Vicki Layfield, Pat & Lisa Boso.

Thank you Everyone and hope we can count on your support again for Christmas 2025.

Community Update

Completion of Mt Holland Road Upgrade

We are pleased to announce the successful completion of the Mt Holland Road upgrade in collaboration with the WA Government and Decmil Group, which will result in the handover of 113km of enhanced infrastructure to Main Roads WA.

Throughout March, we finalised the last stages of the project:

- Sealing works were completed
- Line marking was commenced by Main Roads WA
- Installation of road markers and signage was carried out

Recent bushfires, vehicle movement bans, and unstable weather conditions presented obstacles and delays. Despite these challenges, our team successfully delivered the project within the agreed schedule.

The significantly upgraded Parker Range and Marvel Loch Forrestania (MLF) Roads enhance material transport from the Mt Holland Mine and Concentrator to the Kwinana Refinery, benefitting all who travel these roads.

New Cancer Council WA campaign empowers young people to break free from vaping

Cancer Council WA, with funding from Lotterywest and Healthway, has launched a new Clear the Air campaign, 'You can break free from vaping', to help young West Australians aged 14-24 who currently vape to quit.

The campaign involves real young people sharing their stories and experiences on the negative impact vaping had on their health, and the positive impact quitting has had on their lives. This campaign's message is that quitting vaping is possible and many others are doing the same. It aims to empower young people to take control of their health by recognising the signs of addiction and providing them with the resources they need to quit.

People are encouraged to visit cleartheair.org.au to access tips to quit, take the 'Am I addicted' quiz, and use the quit savings calculator to see how much they can save by quitting vaping. For more information, please contact cleartheair@cancerwa.asn.au.

Registrations are now open for Australia's Biggest Morning Tea 2025

This year in May, Cancer Council's Australia's Biggest Morning Tea turns 32! This year, our signature event aims to raise more than $1.6 million to continue with life-saving cancer research, prevention, advocacy and support programs. Whichever way you choose to celebrate Australia's Biggest Morning Tea, every dollar raised will make a huge difference.

Remember, it doesn't need to be fancy - your Biggest Morning Tea could be at home with friends or family, a simple morning tea in the office with workmates, a virtual get-together, or a gathering in the local community or at school. Pioneers of Yilgarn

Stage 1.

Citizens who built this district between years 1887 and 1914

Raeside, Allan: First government official at Golden Valley in 1887, sent to establish water supplies after gold was discovered. Raeside was then sent to Southern Cross in 1888 as foreman in charge of roads and water. He set up camp in the present school ground, leading to this block being allocated for government buildings. Most dams and wells in Yilgarn were built by Raeside and his men. Many still exist. He is also noted for building a properly formed road between York and Southern Cross. When Coolgardie was discovered in 1892, Raeside was tasked with providing water along the track and at the new find. In 1900 he accidentally drowned at Esperance.
